WAR ON LITTER OTTERPOOL LANE

With the support of local litter volunteers and persistence from the Parish Council a positive breakthrough has been made to work towards reducing the litter created on the approaches to the Industrial Site which sees all manner of waste being discarded along Otterpool Lane. The District Council have pledged to work with the Industrial Site operators looking at overnight stayers, installation of litter bins (budgets allowing) and clean-ups of Otterpool Lane. Our next challenge is to ensure that coordination takes place between the litter clearers and grass verge strimmers to prevent spread of the more hidden litter. We will get there in the end!!

SLIP SLIDING AWAY

The last Parish Council meeting heard that some of our elderly residents have been struggling using the paths near the area of Aldington Road at its junction with Stone Street because of the leaves and debris falling onto the paths. The Parish Council will contact the Highways Department ensure that these higher risk areas are cleared.

The Council would also like to ask home and property owners to monitor their boundary foliage where it over hangs public footpaths and where possible ensure it is maintained to prevent it causing obstruction and dropping of leaves.

Thank your help and understanding.

LYMPNE AIRFIELD MEMORIAL PARK

The plan to take control of part of the airfield for the benefit of our residents is still possible after a meeting held between the Parish Council working group, Homes England (the current owners) and Otterpool in December. The plan to highlight the history of the land was seen as positive and the next stage is to meet with strategic landscapers. The working group will identify the locations within the airfield with historic links and these will be incorporated into the final plan. We will keep you updated.

LYMPNE VILLAGE HALL

The figures are in! The Christmas Fayre was a great success and added £850 to our funds after all expenses. This will be used on maintenance of the hall and upgrades. We have plans for a new kitchen in 2023, amongst other things. I'd like to thank everyone who came along, the stallholders and the volunteers.

The Summer Fayre will be combined with a celebration of the coronation of King Charles. However, we can't run events without a strong committee and unfortunately, we are a little short on numbers. If you are interested in helping out, please get in touch with the chair (chair@lympnevillagehall.co.uk).

LYMPNE AIRFIELD HISTORY SOCIETY

Our presentation on January 3rd is still to come as I write these words before Christmas to meet the January issue deadline. It may have taken place as you read these words. The subject matter is Cross Channel First Flights since 1785 with the emphasis on Lympne. The presenter is our regular friend from Herne Bay, David Goldsmith. The March 7th presentation will be presented by Adam Fraser and Catherine Tappenden from the company Arcadis, through their Local Sparks outreach programme consulting on archaeology and heritage. Their subject is the 1919 record breaking flight to Cairo of Harry Yates in 1919. This Lympne launched flight will be described in more detail in the February issue. Please note there is a £2 charge per entrant at our new venue and tea and coffee is available. Should you wish to bring your own alcohol, this is permitted. Toilet facilities are on site and the church is heated.

This month we look at another record breaking inter war aviator less well known than many of his contemporaries.

Tommy Rose DFC By John Simpson- There are many more well known record breakers who flew to and from Lympne between the wars than Tommy Rose. A Google search will bring forth masses of information on Johnson, Mollison, Batten, Scott, Broadbent and Kingsford Smith to name a few. So who was this lesser known aviation hero of yesteryear? Tommy Rose was born in Chilbolton, Hampshire in January 1895. He became a WW1 flying ace with eleven victories to his name, and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC). His citation read,

'This officer has accounted for nine enemy machines during recent operations. Possessing a marked degree of the real offensive spirit. He sets a notable example to the other pilots of his squadron by his utter disregard of personal danger'.

From 1925 until 1927 he was the Flight Commander of 43 Squadron, RAF as Flight Lieutenant Rose. In 1935 he had won the King's Cup flying a Miles M3 Falcon G-ADLC. He would go on to become sales pilot and instructor at Phillips & Powis Aircraft Ltd at Woodley near Reading. He flew with Jim Mollison to Cape Town in March 1932 from Lympne. On 7th January 1936 Rose took off from Lympne to attack the England to Cape Town record, but was forced down in France in the dark sustaining damage to the repaired Falcon. He tried again on February 6th. This time he made it to take back the record from Amy Johnson. His time was three days, seventeen hours and thirty eight minutes.

From 1939 to 1945 he became the chief test pilot at Phillips & Powis. They became better known as Miles Aircraft from 1943. He would go on to work at Brooklands after the war in charge of the first aeroplane petrol station. Tommy Rose died in Alderney on 20th June 1968, where he had been living in retirement since 1948. During that time he once owned the Grand Hotel in Guernsey. He'd also been a Vice President of the States of Guernsey between 1966 until his death.

Kent Gardener— A new year but generally not a great improvement on December's gardening weather. The days are gradually getting longer so by the end of the month spring will not seem so far away. Perhaps a bowl of bulbs will help. Hyacinths perfume a room but there are others, miniature daffodils, and irises among others. Keep the bulbs' compost moist but not wet, especially if there are no drainage holes in the pot. In a coolish room the flowers will last longer. Once the flowers are over dead head but allow the leaves to die back naturally outside, sheltered or in porch, water and feed fortnightly. The bulbs will go dormant and can be planted in the border. Paperwhite narcissus are not hardy and should not be planted outside. Flowers will be smaller and more spaced but still pretty. Deadhead pansies and violas feed and water for extended flowering. If you have rhubarb crowns cover one with an upturned bucket or very large pot to 'force' early pink stems but after harvesting let it grow naturally, feed and don't take any more from it this year to maintain vigour. When working on wet soil stand on a plank to avoid compacting the soil. If you need to replace a shrub have look round and see what is flowering now. Christmas box, viburnum, daphne or similar add colour and fragrance and provide food for bees and insects which may be flying on a mild day. If you disturb a queen bee while clearing leaf litter cover her over and let her wake up when she is ready.

STUDYING HISTORY AND ARCHAEOLOGY

We commence our programme for 2023 on Tuesday 17 January in the Harry Margary Hall when the speaker will be the well-known Kent historian, Imogen Corrigan, who will give a presentation on 'Viking: Life and Legend'. This promises to be an interesting evening. Anyone wishing to join SHAL should contact Rosemary Stutchbury on 266966 or rosemary@stutchbury.myzen.co.uk for further details.'

LETTER FROM REV BARRY

At this time of year people focus on the joy of the Christmas we have just had. Many are glad that it is all over for another year. Many, like me, who love all that is Christmas, feel a certain anti-climax. Being positive, we have the encouragement from deepening our understanding and appreciation, year-on-year, of what Christmas really means to us, our family, our neighbours, and the wider community.

Rather than give you antidotes of Christmas past and what that means to me, I want to appeal to you to consider this anti-climax of January that many of us feel. The time when all the festivities are over, the New Year welcomed and friends and family have returned to the routine of life. The days are still long and the evenings dark. Spring feels so far away. Too many people, particularly those living alone, feel a deep sense of loneliness.

It is during this time that we can do so much for others. Simple things like popping round, a friendly call or short kind message. Merely our presence and our thoughts for others can so often be all that is needed to lift someone's day. A reminder that they are not forgotten and that they are loved.

By way of example, weekly, on Monday afternoon at 2pm in the Lads' Club, Saltwood, there is the Monday Chats, a place where people gather for friendship, fun and some homemade cake. On Tuesday each week, at 10:30, there is Warm Welcome at Lympne church. Again, an opportunity to gather and build friendship and keep warm in these colder days.

There is no charge, though donations will be accepted if people wish to contribute. The overall aim is to welcome people from across the community. An opportunity to meet others, make new friends and learn more of our community and the things that go on.

'Just what we need,' has been the comment heard from most of those who have heard about it. I hope those of you reading this will feel the same and put the two events in your diaries

Have a blessed New Year!

Rev Barry
